

JUST FOR KIDS

Our children are the future guardians of the planet on which we live. Decisions we make today will radically alter the landscape and environment we leave to the future. The resources you find on this page will help to educate and inspire young and old alike to better understand the vital importance of protecting the environment for all the inhabitants of our fragile Planet Earth.

Check out the following kid-friendly resources, and spread the word!

NOTE: Some of these materials may be more-appropriate for older children and adults; please monitor your young-people's online viewing habits for grade-appropriate content.
